“The Chevrolet Orlando - a powerful family MPV that perfectly combines versatility and design.” This is how Chevrolet describes their new MPV line flagship. An attractive product such as this deserves strong partners in the online advertising market. mobile.de utilised nugg.ad Predictive Behavioural Targeting for Chevrolet and, thanks to more efficient target group appeal, attained an excellent 50% uplift in brand awareness!

THE CAMPAIGN

Over an extended period of 8 weeks, mobile.de of the eBay Advertising Group proved to be an excellent environment for the Chevrolet Orlando campaign. The goal was to raise the brand awareness of the Chevrolet Orlando model. 6.75 million ad impressions were delivered by an extensive advertising media portfolio with medium rectangle, superbanner, skyscraper and banderole ads through the advanced nugg.ad targeting solution. The Orlando campaign was aimed at men, 30-59 years of age, with children under 14 – the effectiveness of the campaign was evaluated by using the nugg.ad Brand Engagement Measurement.

This technology provided detailed insights into brand awareness and purchase intention, thereby uniquely allowing the measurability of the target group in terms of attitude towards the brand. Likewise, it was possible to identify the optimal contact class.
